Risk management efficiency at every turn

Many financial institutions don't have the time or resources to implement an effective enterprise risk management program. Fragmented manual processes only make the situation worse. Switch to a secure, integrated solution that enables your organization to measure potential impacts and manage risk from a position of powerful preparedness.

With Nrisk, your team can:

Improve exam readiness

With customized risk ratings and reporting and organized task management, your organization is exam-ready at all times. In between exams, you can strengthen existing compliance and controls for comprehensive risk management.

Assess risk continuously

Our extensive control and risk libraries, robust reporting and easy-to-use dashboards allow your team to identify, evaluate, measure, and monitor risk in real-time with relevant metrics.

Automate processes and procedures

Automation saves time and costs by allowing your team to allocate the appropriate resources to each type of risk, resulting in more accurate, streamlined risk management.

Manage and measure holistic risk

Our software helps your organization maintain a full view of your risk exposure in multiple categories. And because Nrisk integrates with other Ncontracts software, the system is truly seamless.

Ncontracts ERM services combine expertise and technology for a complete solution, so your organization can quickly realize the benefits of your ERM program.

Our services can be tailored to your needs. A full implementation of our comprehensive risk management program helps to align risk management with your strategic goals, identify and assess risks, evaluate existing risk management practices, and implement continuous and thorough ERM processes. We take you step-by-step through the process:

- Assess current program from a strategic, operational, and tactical perspective

- Develop customized ERM plan that aligns with your organization's goals

- Offer unlimited training and support with data conversion/import, software installation, configuration, and implementation

If a full-scale installation and implementation is more than you need, we offer individualized services to help you expand, enhance, or manage your existing ERM program. These services include:

- Risk, control, and process assessments

- Creation of risk assessments

- "What If" analysis and reporting

- Board and executive training

- Risk mitigation techniques

- Evaluation of KRI and/or KPIs

- Evaluation and/or creation of strategic objectives in conjunction with risk assessments

With our integrated software and services, your organization can be prepared, protected, and positioned for opportunities.
